VOL. 4. NO. 282 — MONESSEN, PA., TUESDAY, MAY 29, 1906. — SIX CENTS THE WEEK

VOTER GIVES HIS OPINION

On the Attitude Assumed by Col. Huff, Candidate for Congress.

In these days of outspoken publicity in all matters it is strange to say the least that Col. Huff resisting all pressure to make a public statement of his position on the issues of the day has discreetly chosen to maintain a wise silence He says "My constituency is made up of intelligent people and I need not proclaim to them from the housetops." Be it so. But there is a time to speak as well as a time to keep silent. To reply to your political enemies you may or may not; but to ignore the challenge of one of his own household of faith is a confession of weakness.

A sphinxlike silence is commendable in many persons; for no one will accuse an Egyptian mummy of talking over much. Evidently Col. Huff thinks that securing a nomination for Congress is his own affair. Many now at peace in their political graves had similar notions.

The fact remains that securing even a nomination is a very public affair and he who does not know this and act accordingly will to his advantage hear a proclamation even from housetops—that same old handwriting on the wall "Thou art weighed in the balances and found wanting"

It is even in order and the good citizenship of this country expect it that the aspirant for office shall pledge fidelity openly to the will of the majority. This Col. Huff has refused at this time to do.

The failure of the interstate commerce commission to secure the presence of Col. Huff at its hearing last week shows also significantly, either the goverment process server is a flat failure and should be ousted or Col. Huff has brought to a state of perfection the ancient art of dodging.

It comes home to the voters of this district that Col. Huff has deliberately cast off the public in so far as his record is concerned and will not grant the square deal to which we are entitled.

Voters it is up to you. Those who from consideration of whatever nature, avoid the responsibility of public utterance of such as this, had better not aspire to the sacred trust which is reposed in that office

Notwithstanding the fact that the weather was very unfavorable for the school excursion to Kennywood park yesterday, a large delegation of men women and children, representing the schools of Monessen, turned out to participate in the event. About starting time the rain came down in torrents which marred the outlook for a pleasant trip. The party left at 8:30 o'clock and arrived at the park at 2 o'clock in the afternoon and made the best of the day by patronizing the many park amusements. The boat left the park on its return trip at 5.30 arriving in Monessen about 10:30 o'clock.

UNCLE Sam is going to put the "lid" on Panama. Sort of a "Panama hat."

PENNSYLVANIA'S railroads must have borrowed some of their ideas of business principles from Pennsylvania politics.

ABOUT the worst thing definitely known about the rate bill, is the fact that certain corporation senators voted for it.

WHEN the "lie" has been "passed" sufficiently and finally, then the rate bill can be passed. But who wants to spoil sport?

THOSE officials who are now mining for proof of graft in the coal roads' operations, report favorable prospects for a large output at an early day.

As Moorehead, the young Pittsburg millionaire, married solely for love, society in that city naturally feels that it must positively disown him.

No interest was shown, by the House, it is said, when the rate bill came back to that body. Evidently the House did not recognize its long-lost offspring.

THE young King of Spain is about reaching that stage of life when he won't have to be bothered about changing his mind. He will have someone to change it for him.

THAT wild western man who predicted some time ago that it would take 150 years to finish the Panama canal, has nearly enough converts to his belief now to organize a political party.

Trees That Form Islands.

In the course of great rivers, islands are generally formed by the stranding of trees, shrubs, plants and such things brought down by the current. In the Mackenzie river of Canada the whole process of island making in this way can be easily observed. Trees borne down from the banks by the undermining action of the current usually retain considerable mass of earth and stones entangled in their roots. They, therefore, readily sink, and by doing so form considerable shoals, which time converts into regular vegetable islands. Then a thicket of small willows covers the newly formed land and their fibrous roots serve to bind the whole firmly together. A peaty soil is formed by the gradual decay of the vegetation, including the trunks of the trees, and on this many new varieties of plants spring up. Sometimes the island clears its moorings and floats away down stream until it is again arrested by an obstacle, or it may become in a sense waterlogged and subside close to the bottom. In this latter case it often gets covered over with mud and sand, which form a new and more permanent land surface above it.

The Lobster's Birth Name.

"Did you ever see the name a lobster is born with?" asked a fish dealer the other day. "It is marked on his body. No? Well, I'll show you one."

The dealer took a live lobster out of a heap on the marble slab.

"Its name is Joe," the dealer said after he had inspected one of its legs. "Now, can you find it?"

The customer took the lobster gingerly by the back of the neck, where it could not reach his hand with its nippers. Turning it on its back so that the brown legs at its side flopped backward, a smooth streak half an inch long and nearly as wide was seen on the inside of the thigh. In this streak, like a mosaic, were short lines, as though some one had printed on it with indelible brown ink in backhand the characters J-O-E.

"Some lobsters are named Jim," the dealer said, "some Jack, others John, and I once clearly made out the name Julia."

How He Got His Commission

[Original.]

Major Alan Wharton commanded a four company post in what was then the far west. One evening he directed his orderly to tell Sergeant Willard Farnum to report at headquarters equipped for a day's ride. When Farnum reported he saluted and stood at attention while the major went to the door, closed it and, returning to his seat, said in a low tone:

"Sergeant, the paymaster has been here today and left money to pay B company, which is out, as you know, at the forks of the rivers. I don't like keeping other men's money. Besides, some of them want their funds, though I don't see any way to spend it out there. I can't spare a guard, so I have concluded to send you with it. I hope you'll get it through safely."

Sergeant Farnum was one of those few educated young men who at that time entered the ranks for a commission. There are more of them now that commissions are more plentiful. The major gave him the money in a leather belt, which he strapped about his waist. His cavalry jacket did not reach low enough to hide it, and as he walked across the parade it occurred to him that he was exposing it dangerously to view, so he unstrapped it and put it in his pocket. Mounting, he rode out, only halting to ask a scout named McKenna the way to the forks. The full moon was rising as the sun set, and the messenger had a prospect for a fine night's ride. He must go through a hostile Indian country, but scouts had reported that no Indians were there. It did not take him long to find out that either he had mistaken McKenna's instructions or he had been purposely put on the wrong road. He could see no object in being misdirected, so he inferred the former. He had ridden to the east of a range of hills when he should have gone to the west of them. Retracing his steps, he turned at a point not half a mile from the fort and took the western course.

He had not ridden another mile before, while passing through some low brush, an Indian suddenly rose up before him. Farnum brought his carbine to an aim and called on the redskin to surrender. Meanwhile the sergeant felt a grip from behind and was dragged from his horse by another redskin. The first came up, and the two went through his clothes, finding the money belt in his pocket. They danced about joyfully, one of them chattering to the other in their native tongue. Then, taking Farnum's carbine and pistol, they made off.

When Farnum considered his position he was in despair. There was not one chance in a dozen that any one would believe that he had been robbed by Indians. In the first place, it was not supposed there were any Indians so near the fort, and, in the second, Indians would have been more interested in his scalp than his money. Surely his story would be regarded as decidedly thin.

There was nothing to be done except ride back, report the loss and take the consequences. Major Wharton listened to his story in amazement, then ordered him under arrest. In the guardhouse he had nothing to do but think, and the result of his thinking was to send, through the sergeant of the guard, a request for an interview with Major Wharton. What passed at the meeting was known to no one, for the major talked with Farnum in his private apartment.

Shortly after this Major Wharton sent for the scout who had directed Farnum and said to him:

"I consider myself responsible for the loss of B company's pay and shall send all I receive from the paymaster to reimburse them. I want you to take it. I'm going to send my orderly with you, so that if anything happens one can confirm the other's story."

The two men left about dusk, intending to go through, as Farnum had intended, by night. When they arrived at the identical spot where the sergeant had been set upon they were surrounded by Indians and robbed. They started back to the fort, but when the Indians were out of sight turned and moved southward. They had not gone far before they ran into half a dozen cavalrymen from the fort. Reporting the loss, they went back with the troopers. On arriving they were making their way to the commandant's headquarters when they were arrested and taken to the guardhouse. In the morning they were sent to Major Wharton and there found Farnum. The major addressed them:

"You two are guilty of the worst piece of rascality that has ever come under my personal notice. Last night you were robbed by Indians, who found on you not only the money I sent by you, but that sent by Sergeant Farnum. He suspected that you, orderly, had seen his money belt and that you, McKenna, knowing of the paymaster's visit, had suspected he carried funds to B company. You sent him astray to gain time, and you two, disguised as Indians, robbed him, McKenna carrying out the deception with what he knows of the Indian tongue. To you, Farnum, I am indebted for thinking the matter out and concocting this plan for proving the facts and regaining the money. You have made an efficient Indian chief and acquitted yourself so well that I recommend you for a commission. Meanwhile take two good men and carry the money where it belongs. March these rascals back to the guardhouse."

This happened years ago. Colonel Willard Farnum is now a retired officer. During his whole term of service he was spoken of as the Indian chief who got his commission by robbing a scout and his commander's orderly.

Model Sickness.

The pretty girl had told the artist that she had posed before, and on the strength of that statement she got a job. She hadn't held the pose ten minutes before she turned deadly white and sank to the floor.

"Model sickness," said the experienced artist after she had gone. "I knew she was lying, for the first timers always get it. It is as well defined a complaint as seasickness and has to be treated the same way. It is a form of nausea and is caused as much by the nervous strain the new model is always under as by the unusual experience of standing in one position. I have had big, strong men, even negroes, go the same way. It is something every artist has to make allowances for, and only practice can cure it, although I know old models who still suffer from it, especially if they are in an awkward pose."—Exchange.

Some Words Beginning With H.

Most persons aspirate the initial letter of "humble" nowadays and write "a humble" just as they write "a humming" or "a humming bird." But there are very many who would not naturally sound an h in "humble," or in "herb," "hospital," "homage," or even "humor." Before the nineteenth century nobody did, though it is clear that the aspirate had become regular by "David Copperfield's" time, from the fact that Dickens harps on Uriah Heap's "'umble." The insistence on the h is comparatively modern; mediæval men not only said "abit" for habit," but wrote it so and the Bible has "an Hebrew."

Literally Translated.

On visiting Ireland the great traveler Livingstone was much feted. In Dublin at a dinner party he happened to be placed next to a literary lady who was a very stout woman. She worried him greatly about the language of the savage cannibals among whom he had managed to live and wanted to know the sound of their language. He spoke a sentence of it to satisfy her, and she answered, "Being translated, what does that mean?" "It means," he replied, "there is great cutting on you."

Tobacco Penalties.

The shah of Persia, in the seventeenth century, proclaimed that every soldier in whose possession tobacco was found should have his lips cut; while in the same century Massachusetts ordered that "no person shall take tobacco publicly, and any one shall pay one penny for every time he is convicted of taking tobacco in any place."

Nerve.

"Bigbee has a nerve."

"Why so?"

"I threatened to sue him for the $100 he owes me."

"Yes?"

"And he asked me to sue him for $200 and give him the other hundred."

Friends and Enemies.

Be assured that those will be thy worst enemies not to whom thou hast done evil, but who have done evil to thee. And those will be thy best friends not to whom thou hast done good, but who have done good to thee.—Lavater.

If any one has any doubt as to the virtue of Foley's Kidney Cure, they need only to refer to Mr Alvin H. Stimpson, of Willimantic, Conn., who, after almost losing hope of recovery, on account of the failure of so many remedies, finally tried Foley's Kidney Cure, which he says was "just the thing" for him, as four bottles cured him completely. He is now entirely well and free from all the suffering incident to acute Kidney trouble. Sold by The Avenue Drug Store.

RENT PAYS FOR LAND.

Fertile Sections of the Southwest, Where Land Sells for $15 and Rents for $2 per Acre.

One of the remarkable things about Eastern Arkansas and Northern Louisiana is the fact that cleared land rents for $5 per acre cash, and can be bought for $7.50 to $15 per acre. It costs from $6 to $10 an acre to clear it. Other improvements necessary are slight and inexpensive.

The soil is rich alluvial, or made. It produces a bale of cotton per acre, worth $45 to $60. This accounts for its high rental value. Other crops, such as corn, small grains, grasses, vegetables and fruits, thrive as well.

Alfalfa yields 4 to 6 cuttings, a ton to a cutting, and brings $10 to $16 per ton.

In other sections of these states, and in Texas as well, the rolling or hill-land is especially adapted to stock raising and fruit growing. Land is very cheap, $5 to $10 per acre; improved farms $10, $15 to $25 per acre.

The new White River country offers many opportunities for settlers. High, rolling, fine water—it is naturally adapted to stock and fruit raising. Can be bought as low as $3 per acre.

See this great country for yourself and pick out a location. Descriptive literature, with maps, free on request.

Couldn't Lift Ten Pounds.

Doan's Kidney Pills Brought Strength and Health to the Sufferer, Making Him Feel Twenty-Five Years Younger.

Sick kidneys cause a weak, lame or aching back, and a weak back makes a weak man. Can't be well and strong until the kidneys are cured. Treat them with Doan's Kidney Pills. Here's the testimony of one man cured.

J. B. CORTON.

J. B. Corton, farmer and lumberman, of Deppe, N. C., says "I suffered for years with my back. It was so bad that I could not walk any distance nor even ride in easy buggy. I do not believe I could have raised ten pounds of weight from the ground, the pain was so severe. This was my condition when I began using Doan's Kidney Pills. They quickly relieved me and now I am never troubled as I was. My back is strong and I can walk or ride a long distance and feel just as strong as I did twenty-five years ago. I think so much of Doan's Kidney Pills that I have given a supply of the remedy to some of my neighbors and they have also found good results. If you can sift anything from this rambling note that will be of any service to you, or to any one suffering from kidney trouble, you are at liberty to do so."

A FREE TRIAL of this great kidney medicine which cured Mr. Corton will be mailed on application to any part of the United States. Address Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y. Sold by all dealers; price, fifty cents per box.

One would think the Laxative idea in a cough syrup should have been advanced long before it was. It seems the only rational remedy for Coughs and Colds would be to move the bowels and clean the mucous membranes of the throat and lungs at the same time. Kennedy's Laxative Honey and Tar does this. It is the Original Laxative Coughs, Colds, Croup, Whooping Cough, etc. Tastes good and is harmless.—Sold by R. W. Beck.

The tar that is contained in Bee's Laxative Honey and Tar is harmless. It is not coal tar, but is obtained from the pine trees of our own native forests. Bee's Laxative Honey and Tar is the best remedy for colds because it acts on the bowels—thus expelling all colds from the system. Bee's is the original Laxative Honey and Tar, and is best for coughs, colds, croup, whooping cough, lung and bronchial effections. Sold by C. A. Light.

Don't frown—look pleasant. If you are suffering from indigestion or sour stomach, take Kodol Dyspepsia Cure. Hon Jake Moore, of Atlanta, Ga., says: "I suffered more than 20 years with indigestion. A friend recommended Kodol. It relieved me in one day and I now enjoy better health than for many years." Kodol digests what you eat, relieves sour stomach, gas on stomach, belching, etc.—Sold by R. W. Beck.

A liquid cold cure for children that is pleasant, harmless and effective is Bee's Laxative Honey and Tar. Superior to all other cough syrups or cold remedies because it acts on the bowels. An ideal remedy for Coughs, Colds, Croup, Whooping Cough and all curable lung and bronchial effections in child or adult. Pleasant to take. Sold by C. A. Light.

If you are troubled with Piles and can't find a cure, try Witch Hazel Salve, but be sure you get that made by E. C. De Witt & Co., Chicago. It is the Original. If you have used Witch Hazel Salve without being relieved it is probable that you got hold of one of the many worthless counterfeits that are sold on the reputation of the genuine De Witt's Witch Hazel Salve.—Sold by R. W. Beck.

The gums and resins obtained from pine trees have long been recognized as highly beneficial in the treatment of backache, kidney and bladder troubles. Pine-ules is the name of a new medicine, the principle ingredients of which come from the pine forests of our own native land. Sold by C. A. Light.

Mothers everywhere praise One Minute Cough Cure for the sufferings it has relieved and the lives of their little ones it has saved. A certain cure for coughs, croup and whooping cough. Makes breathing easy, cuts out phlegm, and draws out the inflammation. It should be kept on hand for immediate use.—Sold by R. W. Beck.

It is not difficult to relieve blind bleeding, itching or protruding piles with ManZan, the great pile remedy. It is put up in collapsible tubes with nozzle, and may be introduced and applied at the seat of the trouble. Stops pain instantly. Sold by C. A. Light.

Indigestion is much of a habit. Don't get the habit. Take a little Kodol Dyspepsia Cure after eating and you will quit belching, puffing, palpitating and frowning. Kodol Digests what you eat and makes the stomach sweet.—Sold by R. W. Beck.

For bloating, belching, indigestion, etc., eat a Ring's Dyspepsia Tablet after meals. Sold by C. A. Light.

The best safeguard against headache, constipation and liver troubles is De Witt's Little Early Risers. Keep a vial of these famous little pills in the house and take a dose at bedtime when you feel that the stomach and bowels need cleansing. They don't gripe.—Sold by R. W. Beck.

PAY McMAHON A VISIT.

Robbers Attempt to Operate There and are Chased by Armed Citizens Last Night.

If the citizens of this city would follow the example set by McMahon borough residents last night the gang which has been creating so much disturbance in the hill district of late would soon be cleared up. Last night about 2:30 three men were discovered in the act of forcing an entrance to the home of Benny Vivian a truck farmer of McMahon.

The residents of that town have been much exercised over numerous depredations of the kind of late and in a few minutes about 20 men armed with all sorts of weapons were giving chase to the burglars. Numerous shots were fired but happily for the men their pursuers' marksmanship was not of the best and they were not touched by the flying bullets.

Closely pursued they continued on towards Monessen and finally ran into Third street where in the darkness they succeeded in making good their escape. No definite description of the men could be given by those in pursuit.

While the chase was in progress R. T. Dale, who conducts a meat market on Sixth street between Reed and Knox avenues was awakened by George Dean of McMahon who asked that he might be allowed to use his phone to notify the local police to head the men off at Third street. He was unable however to get the police station. Had he been successful the robbers may have been captured.

A FEW SQUIBS.

For the Consideration of the Voters. Shall it be Robbins or Huff?

Col. Huff opposes 2-cents a mile railroad fares So do his railroad friends. Col. Robbins, however, believes any man should be able to ride from New York to Pittsburg at the same rate as from New York to Buffalo. Congress, alone, can enact that right into law. New York state has had a 2-cent law for many years, has better accommodations and lower commutation fares than this state.

Col. Huff dodged the subpoena all right, but denies he went through the cellar. He cannot dodge the Westmoreland voters that way next Saturday.

Hon. Edward E. Robbins is accused of taking out an injunction against miners when acting as attorney for coal company. Morehead & Head, attorneys, took out an injunction in 1890 for Col. Huff, against his striking miners. He does not employ Union men now.

Col. Huff asks workmen's votes on the plea he "pays the highest wages." This is not true. At Madison he pays 77 cents a ton to pick miners and 39 cents for machine mining. The Pittsburg Coal Co. mine just alongside, pays 90 cents a ton pick and 45 cents for machine. Pittsburg Co. drivers get $2 56 for 8 hours and Huff's get $2.57 for 10 hours. All others in proportion, Pittsburg Co. men get as much for 8 hours work as Huff's men get for 10 hours. It

HOLDS HUFF FROM RACK.

Speaker Cannon Will Not Excuse the Westmoreland County Congressman to Testify.

Congressman George L. Huff will tell his story to the interstate commerce commission after congress adjourns—and only then. Mr. Huff will not testify before the adjournment of congress because Speaker Cannon has been standing manfully by him.

Speaker Cannon when asked whether he would stand in the way of Mr. Huff telling his story, replied that he would. He said the place of a member of congress at this stage of the session was right on the floor of the house. He declared he would not honor any application of Mr. Huff for leave of absence except for illness or death in his family. So Mr. Huff is safe for about one month, when he too will have to go on the rack

Hubby Wiggles Toes.

Mrs. Anna Lorenz filed a suit yesterday for divorce from William Lorenz, employed by a big manufacturing plant. She declares her husband has been in the habit of appearing before her female guests in his bare feet "He would sit down deliberately," she avers, and "wiggle his toes in order to humiliate me and my friends. He certainly knows better than to go through such outrageous proceedings, because he never resorted to such acts when we were alone."

"He would return home from the city on Sunday afternoons and exchange his good clothes for working garb, and removing his shoes, would come into the parlor where my women friends were and proceed to wiggle his toes."

Gross neglect and non-support are also charged.

The house was beautifully decorated with palms, roses, and cut flowers and following the ceremony a wedding supper was served.

Both the bride and groom were attended, the former by her sister Miss Madolyn Dickinson, and Miss Irene Warner, and the latter by Mr W. L. Prichard. There were many valuable gifts, that of the groom to the bride being a diamond brooch. Following the wedding supper Mr. and Mrs. Willson left the city for a western trip.
